Chamberlain Hrdlicka Shareholder, Jack Najarian, Participates in Ringing of Nasdaq Closing Bell Ceremony for Texas Capital ETF Launch

Jack Najarian attends Nasdaq Closing Bell Ceremony for Texas Capital ETF Launch

April 10, 2024

On April, 8, 2024, Jack Najarian, shareholder at Chamberlain Hrdlicka was a guest at the Nasdaq closing bell ceremony in Times Square, New York. The event marked the launch of the Texas Capital Texas Small Cap Equity Index ETF (NASDAQ: TXSS), a new fund focused on small-cap companies headquartered in Texas.

The ceremony took place at the Nasdaq MarketSite in Times Square, New York City, with Daniel Hoverman and Ed Rosenberg of Texas Capital leading the proceedings. The launch reflects Texas Capital's aim to invest in Texas' economic growth, focusing on sectors such as industrials, energy, and health care.

Najarian's attendance at the ceremony was noted, with his image broadcasted in Times Square and on financial news outlets like CNBC and Bloomberg.

The TXSS ETF aims to track the performance of the Texas Capital Texas Small Cap Equity Index, reflecting the potential of the state's small-cap market. Texas Capital, based in Dallas, offers a wide range of financial services across Texas and the United States.

Jack Najarian is a shareholder at Chamberlain Hrdlicka, a mid-market, full-service firm with a nationally-leading tax practice. Jack Najarian's practice focuses on helping middle-market businesses and their owners close deals while protecting them in the process, with focuses on business law, mergers and acquisition, and real estate.

Najarian is also a co-host of the Middle Market Dojo Podcast, a podcast that focuses on the middle market space and provides a unique platform for industry leaders to share their experiences and knowledge, so that listeners can learn more about the ins and outs of the business world and make more informed decisions.
