Kisshia Simmons is featured speaker for Better Business Bureau Podcast on Immigration

Immigration Attorney Kisshia Simmons is the Featured Speaker for BBB Podcast

July 12, 2021

Recently, Kisshia Simmons, an attorney in our Houston immigration practice, was a featured speaker on Houston's Better Business Bureau's Business Houston Podcast. The BBB Podcast provides relevant and meaningful interviews with small and medium business owners and business leaders.

Simmons shared how our firm supports area employers and individuals with their immigration law needs. She also shared her insights on current immigration law trends, including the latest immigration policy changes and proposed legislation that have potential to affect Houston and Texas employers, such as the Farm Workforce Modernization Act or the Temporary Protected Status granted to Venezuelan citizens earlier this year.

Moreover, Simmons discussed various visa options available to employers who depend on recruiting foreign-born employees, including in farming and health care industries. She also alerted business owners to the continued increase in I-9 audits and resulting financial penalties and other timely employment-related immigration issues.
