Jack Najarian is a shareholder in the Corporate, Securities & Finance practice group. Jack is dedicated to helping middle-market businesses, their owners, and high net worth individuals navigate a wide range of legal needs. With a focus on mergers and acquisitions, corporate law, business formation, commercial real estate transactions, and commercial leasing, among other areas, he brings a wealth of knowledge and experience to every client interaction.

Jack understands that every business and individual has unique legal needs, and he works closely with each of his clients to provide tailored legal solutions that help them achieve their goals while minimizing risk. Whether you are buying or selling a business or real estate, starting a new venture, or need legal advice on leasing, taxes, IP issues, employment matters, bankruptcy, or estate planning, Jack is able to help or work with a colleague to meet your needs.

Additionally, Jack hosts the Middle Market Dojo Podcast, where he interviews business leaders, entrepreneurs, and experts in various fields to share insights and best practices on navigating the middle market. Please don't hesitate to reach out if you'd like to discuss your legal needs or be a guest on the podcast.
