Andrea Badalucco offers more than a decade of courtroom experience in civil, criminal, family law and juvenile matters. Drawn to the particular needs of clients in family law, Andrea has dedicated her time to serving those navigating the sometimes complex arena of the family court system. Her goal is to provide compassionate representation to help clients make informed decisions about matters that affect their lives.

Telling clients' stories through strong and confident representation drives her to stand her ground with each and every client. Andrea's real-world trial experience while working in the Special Victim's Section of the Oakland County Prosecutor's Office laid the foundation of her passion to give those who need to be heard a voice. She has completed the ICLE's Family Law Certificate Program, and is a talented vocalist. Andrea has performed as a soloist on opera stages of the world, including the Metropolitan Opera in New York City, and recently sang with her choir on a tour through Rome, including St. Peter's Basilica at the Vatican.
